LEMON GROVE REVIEW

The Dimmer View

BY MAX GOODWIN

I was shocked to realize it takes an income of $4,250 today to buy the same things we could have bought for $2,000 ten years ago. Authority for the statement is the public relations office of the Constitutional Party.

Apparently the group is off on a tax-cutting kick, and I'm for that, but they are also on some other bents with which I am not necessarily in accord, nor can I imply I even understand them. But high taxes I do understand.

The release reports there is $614 in direct taxes on a $2,000 auto. There are manufacturer's tax, $155; suppliers tax, $154; dealer's tax, $102; sales tax, $57 and federal excise tax, $146. On every day commodities, this is the direct tax breakdown:

	value	taxes
Bread	.09	.05
Gasoline	.13	.14
Milk (qt.)	.14	.09
Potatoes	.34	.15
Baby Powder	.29	.13
Telephone (mo.)	6.60	2.95
Eggs	.49	.16

Altogether there are 201 taxes on a gallon of gasoline, they explain. There are 53 taxes on a loaf of bread. All of which leads to the frustrating realization that we have too many taxes.

The state department of employment admits to being in error. Through its San Diego auditor in charge, Hagen Christensen, they say they have been tapping the income of golf caddies and this is unlawful. Matter of fact is a state supreme court decision is what made the department set the error of its ways.

The court arrives at this decision by saying the caddy is not an employee of the golf course where he works, and earnings of such persons are not subject to the unemployment tax law.

This then, poses another problem. If said caddy doesn't work for the golf club, he must certainly work for the golfer. Home-makers are required to pay special security taxes on domestics though few, I am led to believe, do it. But with golf there is a different picture. Many golfers are business people who know the inexonerableness of the state tax people. It may be necessary some day, for the golf scoreboard to include tax exemption forms and a state tax schedule.

Mrs. Myrtle Williams, secretary-treasurer of the California Institute of Social Welfare, told the State Senate interim committee on social welfare recently the proposed state-sponsored medical care program would ease the tax burden among local property owners.

Mrs. Williams said local taxpayers carry the burden of many chronically ill persons in county hospitals. She proposes a state-federal plan to do the job.

This indeed would reduce the county tax load by transferring the cost to other agencies for collection.

Cost under state-federal aid would not be less. If anything, it would be more because of the added book work and red tape involved in such tax-aid functions.

Additionally, it would be the next step in spreading local hospital control to a state-federal level. Final objective is complete socialization of medicine.

We're against that.

Readers will recall, certainly, the tizzies this column was put to by the San Diego Encanto and Back railroad which chugs through our town honking its horn unnecessarily. We editorialized so strongly that a whole contingent of railroad executives, some from as far as San Francisco, tramped into my office to mediate our hassle.

They agreed to be more considerate of the nerve-shattering horn blowing and we agreed to simmer down editorially but not without first warning of the penalties which would unquestionably follow a revival of unnecessary horn blowing.

Recently the engineer in charge of horn blowing threw precaution to the wind and rode with heavy hand on the horn. He broke our treaty. Tuesday the horn blowing engine was derailed at North

Rezoning Hearings Due Here

Additional public hearings on rezoning in the Lemon Grove business district will be taken up August 5 it was decided this week by the county board of supervisors.

Under a proposal by the county planning commission zoning along Broadway would be made more uniform. An official legal description is included on page seven of this issue.

The rezoning plan was developed by Dr. Willis Miller, county planning director.

The continuance was caused by objections of some property owners to the proposal. The planning department was instructed by the supervisors to attempt to reach a compromise on the disputes.

The long-awaited zone plan changes will see new developments get underway including a large apartment structure. Marie West Parrish, a realtor, has told the county board a new Lemon Grove apartment housing project would get started just as soon as the new plan wins approval.

Fire Commissioner Named For LG FD

Robert Vaught, 1502 Koe street, a Lemon Grove camera shop operator, was appointed fire commissioner of the Lemon Grove local fire protection district Tuesday by Supervisor David Bird.

Vaught replaces Michael Calderone who submitted his resignation when he moved out of the district. Calderone's term had one more year to run. There are three commissioners in all. Each gets $10 a meeting.

POSTMAN FINES NOTE RECEIVER

You may get fined a nickel by the post office for your friend's mistake in putting too little postage on his letter to you the post office department said this week.

Under a new post office department ruling, a five cent penalty will be imposed on the mail receiver, plus any amount due on unpaid, or unpaid mail.

Example: When a happy Lemon Grove family this week sent birth announcements to all their friends they put two cent stamps on the envelopes. They should have been stamped with three. They arrived with a postage due collection of one cent plus the five cents penalty. Complained one postal patron to the postmaster "I didn't want to get the announcement in the first place."

Dr. Lloyd Adams, 3251 Kempf, Lemon Grove, has recently won Optimists International Loomis Award, reports Harwood Larson, governor of the 14th district of the western region.

Adams, lieutenant governor of Zone 4, San Diego area, received the award for the most outstanding achievements performed by any of 197 lieutenant governors in the United States and Canada.

It was the second straight year the award has been presented to a Zone 4 lieutenant governor. Adams was selected for the award during a recent Optimists International convention in Dallas, Texas.

THEY'RE ALL IN — The long-awaited moment came for backers of Lemon Grove's incorporation drive this week when three representatives of the drive committee presented formal petitions to the county assessor for checking and verification. Shown here, from left, as the petitions were handed over are Jim Spears and Bob Vaught, incorporation committee; John McQuilken, county assessor accepting the papers, and Mrs. Louella Fellows, drive co-chairman. Incorporation Papers On Record With County

Lemon Grove's incorporation was a step nearer this week after petitions were filed with the county board of supervisors and accepted following a slight snag in procedure.

The snag came after incorporation drive officials had presented the petitions at county offices. Mrs. Helen Kleckner, clerk of the board, called for a ruling from the county counsel to determine if the petitions were in proper order since they did not have boundaries of the proposed city included with individual petitions. Bertam McLees Jr., a deputy counsel, Tuesday said the petitions were acceptable after an affidavit was presented, signed by three incorporation officials. (Continued on Page 4)

Local Man Wins Awards

Dr. Lloyd Adams, 3251 Kempf, Lemon Grove, has recently won Optimists International Loomis Award, reports Harwood Larson, governor of the 14th district of the western region.

Harold Hughes, associate superintendent, said taxes in the district, which operates Grossmont, El Cajon, Mt. Miguel and Helix high schools, will probably increase 23 cents. The present tax is $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation.

The estimated tax rate anticipates a normal increase, in assessed valuations, Hughes pointed out.

He captured three blue ribbons and one second place award. The exposition ended its ten-day run Sunday.

Teachers Get Pay; Taxes Up

The adoption of a $5,127,569 budget by the Grossmont high school district recently, provides for a five per cent salary increase for employees of the district, it was learned last week.

Harold Hughes, associate superintendent, said taxes in the district, which operates Grossmont, El Cajon, Mt. Miguel and Helix high schools, will probably increase 23 cents. The present tax is $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation.

The estimated tax rate anticipates a normal increase, in assessed valuations, Hughes pointed out.

Robert Rankin was engineer; Fred Johnson was conductor. A crew got the engine "off the ground" Thursday.

Spring Valley 4H'er Wins Poultry Awards

Timothy Mathewson of Spring Valley, member of the Lemon Grove 4-H Club, won awards with his entries in the junior poultry division at the Southern Exposition and San Diego County Fair at Del Mar.

He captured three blue ribbons and one second place award. The exposition ended its ten-day run Sunday.

Water District Rate Reduction Gains Approval

A tax rate reduction of 44 cents was approved this week by the Helix Irrigation District, according to Byron Miller, district general manager.

The previous rate was $1.54 which now becomes $1.10 with the exception of El Cajon annexed area where a rate of $3.92 has been reduced $1.12 to $2.70. The rate is earmarked to retire construction bonds issued to finance initial installation of pipelines.

Additional good water news is there will be no increase in water rates during 1958-59. The district will absorb an increase in cost for Colorado river water. The price was increased July 1.

At the same time a record $3 million operating budget was approved. This represents an increase of $750,063 over the previous year. Larger budget without hiking rates is possible because of a larger than anticipated carry-over in the district's cash balance and a much higher anticipated water receipts. $216,000 was carried over to the bud-

Long Battle Ends With Victory For Local Proponents

A ten months battle, spearheaded by this newspaper, to bring about better court conditions for this area was successfully concluded Tuesday when the county board of supervisors voted 3-1 to realign the former Homeland Judicial District with the El Cajon Judicial District. Supervisors Bird, Gibson and Dent voted for realignment. Austin voted against it. Howell was absent.

The approval of the newly aligned district means El Cajon judicial district with a population of 140,000, will be eligible for another court and another judge. The district will now include Lemon Grove and Spring Valley areas. Need for added court facilities was indicated by the El Cajon court setting current cases for February, 1959 according to El Cajon Municipal Judge Fenton Garfield.

This newspaper took the position that loss of a court in this area was not a realistic approach to the needs of the citizen-taxpayer who was carrying an increasing tax load and receiving diminishing services.

El Cajon, the nearest court, took the impact of the local court's closing and fell hopelessly behind its calendar.

Garfield has been an outspoken critic of the consolidation because of the El Cajon overload. He complained that the best interests of east San Diego citizens was not being served by supplying additional court service to San Diego district while the El Cajon district's docket was running seven months behind schedule.

This newspaper has editorially criticized those involved in the (Continued on Page 4)

Sites Set For SV Schools

The surveying for the sites of four new Spring Valley elementary schools has been completed. Fred Lance, business manager for the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district reports. The surveying was the first step based on the expected growth of the area during the next five years, Lance pointed out.

The sites are 1. In the Spring Valley Estates, of Bollenbacher and Kelton, about one half mile south of the Mt. Miguel high school; 2. At Harness and Sweetwater Lane, in the south Spring Valley area; 3. Near Helix and Olive drives; 4. On the South Barcelona street extension as it goes into Highlands boulevard.

An architect has already begun work on the drawings for the school in the Spring Valley Estates area, and the district will apply to the state this week for funds to help build all four schools.

All area residents are urged to check this paper for the special section on Value Days and shop at the stores participating in the big mid-year summer sale.

A special 24-page tabloid section will be included in this paper next week to show many of the values being offered. Earl Nelson, president of the Lemon Grove Booster's club, this week said the values offered would be the "hottest" items anywhere in the southland during next week's big sales.

Two Monterey Heights brothers, seven and nine years old, were in juvenile hall last week after seven counts of arson had been placed against them.

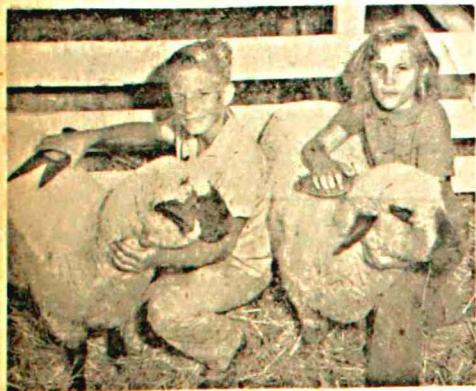

The boys had been arrested last week after a series of fires in the Lemon Grove and Fletcher Hills areas in the last three months.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Bryan said the younger boy admitted starting several fires. The older boy refused to give officers any details.

Annapolis Scene Of Marriage

Before an altar banked with white gladioli and white summer flowers, Miss Claudette Ann Kautz became the bride of Ensign Bruce Llewellyn Craig, USN, on the afternoon of June 5 at the Trinity Methodist church, Annapolis, Maryland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Emil Kautz of Annapolis, Maryland. Ensign Craig is the son of Lt. Comdr. William Bruce Craig, USN (ret.), and Mrs. Craig, of Lemon Grove, Calif.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace, designed with a boat neckline, finger-tip sleeves, and a white silk cummerbund and bow. Her fluted crown was held in place by a scalloped veil of illusion in finger-tip length. She carried a bouquet of white roses and bay's breath on a white lace-covered Bible.

Mrs. James L. Corte, as matron of honor, wore a ballerina length of white nylon organdy, embossed in baby blue, and designed with a blue silk cummerbund and bow. She wore a blue lace picture hat with white accessories and carried a basket of summer flowers.

The sister of the bride, Miss Pamela Kautz, served as maid of honor. Her gown was similarly styled in pink and she carried a basket of summer flowers also. Clive E. Craig, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Ensign Robert Brown, USN, and Ensign Melvin Gough, USN. Swordbearers were Ensigns Brown and Gough, Ensign Thomas Gibbons, USN, Ensign John Potter, USN, Ensign Ronald Schnepper, USN and Ensign Calvin Reed, USN.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of baby blue lace with a matching picture hat, shoes, and white gloves. She wore a red rose corsage.

At the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride cut the four-tiered wedding cake with the sword passed on to the bridegroom by his father. Summer flowers decorated the Kautz home, with its stairway trimmings with white bridal wreath and orange blossoms.

Having completed a trip across country, Ensign and Mrs. Craig are spending the summer at the home of the groom's parents and are also visiting Yosemite and Sequoia National Parks. Following their visit in California, the newly married couple will make their home at Pensacola, Florida, where Ensign Craig will be stationed.

The bride was graduated from the Annapolis high school in '52 and from the University of Maryland school of nursing in 1955.

The bridegroom was graduated from Hoover high school in San Diego, Calif., from the San Diego junior college, and the day before his wedding from the Naval Academy.

Beauticians Get Vacation

Employees of the local Hollywood Beauty Shop on Broadway were back at work Monday after a long week-end holiday. K. Priest, owner of the Lemon Grove shop, together with five other shops around the county, closed all the shops and gave paid off-days to 68 employees from July 4 to 7.

"We hope we didn't inconvenience our patrons by closing but our beauticians had been working hard all spring. We thought we could better serve the public if our girls got a rest and could return to work with high morale," Priest said.

With San Diego's Padres hot in the thick of the pennant race, attendance at Westgate Park is running far ahead of last year's figures.

General manager Ralph Kiner reported this week that the total gate for 1958 is 35,618 over 1957. Thus far slightly more than 131,000 have passed through the turnstiles at the beautiful new park.

A further gain in attendance is expected this week with Vancouver, one of the three pennant contending clubs, in town for seven games through Sunday. It marks the first visit of the Mounties, lead by fiery Charlie Metro, to the Mission Valley orchard.

Sheriff's Rodeo Set At Balboa

When the action explodes in the area of the San Diego sheriff's fourth annual rodeo this year, fans will see another professional edition of the roughest competitive sport in the world. Billed as the Southwest's greatest rodeo, the show will be presented at Balboa stadium on Saturday, August 2 at 8 p.m. and August 3, 2 p.m.

Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from any deputy sheriff or sub-station in El Cajon, Escondido or Vista, according to Lt. Tom Isbell, chairman of the rodeo.

Among the top hands who will be on deck to vie for a share of the $6,000 prize money is Lawson Force from Riverside. Force was the outstanding contestant in the sheriff's 1957 rodeo and was one of the outstanding riders in the West the same year.

The opening grand entry of amateur horsemen will display an estimated $350,000 worth of silver-mounted saddles and bridles. Horsemen from as far north as San Francisco will be here to compete for prizes in the grand entry. Monty Montana and his troupe along with many other outstanding performers will be on hand, including a Western TV star to be announced later. Tickets are priced at $2 general admission and 75 cents for children under 12.

All proceeds from the show go to the relief fund of San Diego county sheriff's relief association, sponsors of the show.

City Signers For LG Filed With County

tying to the validity of the signature and the boundary description had been presented each signer.

The LG city limits would be generally the same as those of the Lemon Grove local fire district. The city's population would be about 25,000 according to present figures.

The petitions, representing ownership of more than 200 separate parcels of land with a total combined assessed valuation of more than $1,460,000, were put into county official machines some five weeks ahead of the tentative schedule.

It will require about 30 days for San Diego County Assessor John McQuilken to check the petitions for validity and sufficiency. Assuming they are found to represent at least 25 per cent of the total parcels and 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of all land in the proposed incorporation area, it will become mandatory for the board of supervisors to call a special election so the people of Lemon Grove can vote on home rule.

After the petition have been checked and prior to setting a date for the election, it will be necessary for the board of supervisors to hold a formal boundaries hearing to consider any requests of property owners for exclusion from the proposed new city of Lemon Grove.

Speaking in behalf of the more than 110 members of the incorporation committee, CoChairman Louella Fellows issued a blanket vote of thanks to all petition signers and to the scores of volunteer workers who circulated the petitions. "Circulation of the petitions was an outstanding example of unselfish civic service," Chairman Fellows said. "It is one which deserves the praise and commendation of the entire community.

Realignment Gains Nod From County

consolidation action last year. At that time Lemon Grove had a justice court presided over by Justice Luther Hussey. John Dail, a local insuranceman and tenant of Hussey's office building, appeared before the supervisors without advance notice to the district's residents, and asked that Homeland district be consolidated with the San Diego Municipal Court district. Dail is the brother of the Mayor of San Diego. The board voted 4-0. Supervisor Bird of this district was absent.

Judge Hussey had been a defender of the local court on the basis of need of local service until legislation made it possible for a presiding judge to move up with his court upon consolidation with a higher district. He made no dissenting plea when Homeland was lost. He moved up as municipal judge and in June defeated handily two opponents who ran against him. He subsequently became the major objector to realignment.

Local residents complained of unsatisfactory court service and El Cajon Municipal Judge Garfield asked for a supervisor's hearing. An imposing contingent of lawyers and civic leaders joined him in demanding better court facilities in the east county.

To them, and many other local citizens it did not make good sense that a traffic court in San Diego be substituted for a court of a general nature in Lemon Grove. While the new court and judge will provide better service for the entire area, it still leaves Lemon Grove without a court facility which probably would have remained had not the former system been tampered with.

Judge Hussey attacked Garfield's demands in a letter to the supervisors based on the possible necessity for Hussey to move in order to be able to reside in the district in which he now serves. By a 3-2 vote the supervisors agreed to defer action until they could hear from the state judicial court.

At this week's hearing another contingent of supporters appeared. In opposition came John Dail and Frank Armstrong, an attorney. Armstrong ran against Hussey for the judgeship and was defeated. Dail told supervisors that citizens had approved court consolidation by voting for Hussey by a substantial margin at the June primaries. The supervisors finally agreed to serve 140,000 residents of the district. To the principal objector, Judge Hussey, they served by running a narrow finger of precincts from the San Diego district to Hussey's residence on San Miguel street in Lemon Grove.

Private opinion seemed to be that it would be several more months before another court and judge would be added to this enlarged El Cajon district. The judge will be appointed by Governor Knight and it is supposed that it may take him several months to evaluate the records of judicial prospects so that a smart political as well as a smart professional choice might be made.

In Lemon Grove, attorney W. Earl Smart has made a bid for the post by contacting Governor Knight personally. The governor did not indicate who would get the appointment, nor when he would make it.

The supervisor's decision, some of us feel, puts court services back into the area where they can serve the citizens best.

get from the reserve fund. This fund was maintained at a higher level as a precaution against decreased water sales due to a previously planned water conservation program. District water will not be in short supply this year, according to Miller.

Construction budget of $1,332,343 represents the largest expenditure for the new fiscal year. This money will be spent for the improvement and maintenance of the existing water distribution system, including replacement of a portion of the small diameter pipe still in service.

Miller said the rate break was possible because so many new subdivisions had been carved out of what previously had been fields. This increases values in many cases, he said. Water district taxes are based on land only assessments, he pointed out.

The current budget is $3,042,802, or 32 per cent more than last year's $2,292,739.

and Imperial, less than a half block from our office.

The Phantom has struck its first blow!

Those motorists who took trips, short or long, over the long weekend have done so with good and timely warnings from Roland Gausche, captain of the state highway patrol. These warnings are usually dispersed through the various newspapers and accent is generally of high speed and drinking-driving.

The editor of the Vista Press reacted rather firmly to some of the things the highway patrol seldom mentions in a recent piece on highway safety.

He complains particularly of the slow driver, who "having no place to go and all day to get there, holds up a long line of cars. Such slow drivers, who have no sense of courtesy on the road and will not pull over to let those back of them pass, are the cause of many head-on accidents."

"The slow driver is a menace on the highway, is usually suffering from an inferiority complex, and since he has never been a leader in anything chooses to lead a long parade of cars that he may satisfy his ego. He is not concerned whether those behind him have appointments, may have business of importance to transact, or might even be on the way to the hospital with a sick child. No sir, he's ahead, and by golly he's going to stay ahead, sometimes even speeds up a bit when an opportunity comes for cars to pass. But those who have things to do attempt to pass, and many times wind up becoming the main cause of an accident—all because of a road hog."

"There is such a thing as courtesy—it's amazing how many persons are courteous, except when they get behind the wheel of an automobile! Then their true nature asserts itself. Should a driver prefer to cruise along at slower speeds than is his prerogative, providing he pulls to the side and allows faster moving cars to pass."

"Then there are the freeway drivers who get alongside of each other and proceed, side by side, at 35 to 50 miles per hour, deliberately blocking the highway. These are in all probability the most selfish persons in the world. They enjoy their dog-in-the-manger tactics. They are kings for a few minutes, and intend to stay that way as long as they can, and to heck with those behind. They create a traffic hazard for those following.

"The left hand lane traveler is also a menace. He causes many drivers to break the law by passing on the right side of his car."

"The law is very plain in these cases, and were more emphasis placed on enforcement of the law there would be fewer accidents."

"Requirements are that slow drivers pull to one side and allow following traffic to pass, and that the left lane on a two lane highway be used for passing only. In the State of Washington the highways are so posted and the rule is observed. In California it appears that the state cannot afford such warning signs."

"California Highway Patrolmen should enforce these laws along with speeding and other infractions."

Dairy Month Deemed Tops In Promotion

The most successful June Dairy Month program in California has come to an end, and California's Dairy Princess, 18 year old Jan Carlton, has concluded a busy schedule of daily appearances in the state.

Representing the state's thousands of milk producers, Princess Jan has appeared before gatherings of civic clubs, chambers of commerce, dairy organizations, and other groups, in addition to making numerous radio and television appearances, and conducting press interviews.

At each of her appearances, the Dairy Princess pointed out the importance of dairying in California. She indicated that dairying is the largest of the more than 250 agricultural crops in the state, with nearly $336 million realized in milk income during 1957. Princess Jan said that California is sixth in the nation in the number of cows, fourth in milk production, third in cash farm income from the sale of milk at the farm price, and is the leading state in the nation in average production per cow, with an average of 333 pounds per cow.

Upcoming events for the charming Dairy Princess include visits at various county fairs in the state, more speaking engagements, tours of metropolitan areas, and an additional reign in the fall as the Grand National Dairy Queen at the Livestock show to be held in the Cow Palace in San Francisco. She leaves in early November for Baton Rouge, Louisiana to represent California at the American Dairy Princess finals.

Bookings for Princess Jan are handled through the American Dairy Association of California, 1513 K Street, Modesto.

monies were L. A. Baker, scoutmaster; Howard Skinner, assistant scoutmaster; and Jim Ray, institutional representative. The award ceremony was under the direction of Howard Takahashi, committee chairman.

Wayne Hance holds the next highest rank in the troop. He is a Star Scout which is two ranks below Lyle's.

Reserves Set Fund Picnic

Sheriff Bert Strand announced this week the sheriff's reserves are sponsoring a mammoth barbecue and outing Sunday, July 27 to aid the United Cerebral Palsy foundation. A county park has been reserved for the event and several hundred pounds of beef and pork will be barbecued in an open pit.

Sheriff's Lieutenant Quentin Cash said the handicapped youngsters will be transported to the park by the reserve officers who will also take care of serving the food and all other details. Lt. Cash also reported many local businessmen have volunteered food and other items for the event.

Reserve Captain Ben Bordelon reported that invitations have been sent to Governor Knight, Mayor Dail, and Robert Dent, chairman of the board of supervisors. Entertainment will be provided by Ozzie's band, the Shrine Clowns, and local, radio and TV personalities.

TEA SET The garden section of the Lemon Grove woman's club is sponsoring a patio tea at the home of Mrs. O. R. Patterson, 8390 Golden Avenue, Lemon Grove, Friday this week at 12:30 p.m.

All the girls are unmarried, between the ages of 18 and 25 and were born in California or Baja California and have been residents of San Diego county for at least a year.

As finalists in the contest, each was awarded a full Fiesta outfit by Walker Scott company.

Harry Callaway is chairman of the queen contest committee. Other local judges are Paula Kent, Warren Beach, Mrs. Mildred Goetz, Paul Oxley and Mrs. Muriel Tolle.

When the finals are held on July 19, these judges will be joined by John Robert Powers and Trudy Wood, queen of the Tournament of Roses.

Square Dance News . . .

COUNTRY COUSINS

Ed Walsh and wife Rose of 9485 Janfied street, La Mesa, were installed as presidents of the Country Cousins square dance club, when that group met for the fourth Saturday party dance at the La Mesa junior high school, June 28. Other officers installed were: Bob and Gladys Lauder, vice-presidents, San Diego; Les and Doris Crane, recording secretaries, Rancho road, Homelands; Nola and Eulah Flowers, treasurers, San Diego; Rubin and Lena Timm, corresponding secretaries, San Diego; George and Helen Chapman, entertainment chairmen, San Diego; Al and Mary Lindsey, Lemon Grove and John and Mary Akers, La Mesa, board members.

The officers are elected for a six month term.

The June 28 dance featured the calling and singing of Ray Columbus.

July 5 was workshop night for the Country Cousins. They are making plans for a picnic at Holiday Ranch, July 20. It will be for members only.

Many new things are happening at Frontier Squares. The appointment of Bud Crane as the first marshall of Frontier Squares to keep things rolling at the dances was started July 4. July 7 the intermediate class was graduated.

It is hoped they will enjoy many, many years of square dancing and last but not least is the new advanced workshop starting July 15 at Rolando school, 70th and Tower.

This is a seven week course for only $6 per couple to be instructed by Wild Bill Keller. Advance registration and completion of intermediate class is necessary. For information call HO 9-8564 or HO 9-8358.

COUNTRY COUSINS

Country Cousins' first Saturday dance proved to be a bang up affair, although not scheduled as party night. Many guests were present, including the Heartland couple of the month, Dan and Roberta Boone of Frontier Squares.

There was even a group from Coral Kickers, a Honolulu club. Jaunty George Vagborg outdid himself in the calling department, assisted by guest caller Bill Fuquay of Coral Kickers. Saturday will be party night with George Vagborg again at the mike.

MERRY WHIRLERS

The club will mix business with pleasure at its dance, Saturday. Election of officers for the fall and summer term will be held.

There will be dancing with Ron East calling the squares.

The past month I suppose hundreds of homes have been established in our country. The nation, the community and the church need strong homes. The home can be strong only if Jesus Christ is permitted to be the center of it. SD Chamber Asks County Hospital Aid

The San Diego chamber of commerce has advised the board of supervisors the chamber is in sympathy with the county's problem in connection with the county hospital and presently favors a bond issue to enable construction of adequate facilities.

Directors of the chamber also pointed out to the supervisors they want more facts and figures, as well as an expression of opinion by the county board regarding desires in the way of a bond issue, before making a specific recommendation on the proposed hospital bond issue to its member ship and electorate.

Eugene T. Ageno, chairman of the chamber's state and local affairs committee, advised chamber directors the county is risking loss of accreditation, he said, will to replace county hospital buildings which have been condemned. Loss of accreditation, he said, will make necessary excessively expensive staffing with physicians and nurses, and possible loss of intern and student nursing programs.

Del Mar Track Set For Opening

With the July opening of the 19th summer season just three weeks away, activity at the Del Mar turf club began stepping up this week in preparation for the 42-day whirl of topflight Thoroughbred racing.

Racing Secretary Barry White has reported for duty and issued his first condition book, covering the initial 10 days of the forthcoming meeting. It lists racing opportunities worth more than $30,000 per day for the period—substantial portion of the approximately $1,200,000 stakes and purses to be offered horsemen competing here this summer.

If the product is advertised at less than wholesale, better watch out, your San Diego Better Business Bureau warns. No firm can remain long in business unless it makes a profit.

80.5% Recovered Through Chiropractic

Success in the recovery of mental patients thru chiropractic care is disclosed thru a survey made by Herman S. Schwartz, D.C., President of the National Council of Psychotherapy. His facts and figures were obtained through a scrupulous, scientific survey with a representative group of patients with varying degrees of mental disturbance. The hard core of unshakable evidence shows marked benefit from chiropractic care.

Schwartz divided 350 test cases into 21 basic categories of mental disorders. Different therapies were compared with chiropractic care. The summation is that the chances are about 9 in 10 that the patient benefits from chiropractic.

Here Are the Facts... Here Is the Truth on Chiropractic Performance:

Planning Career Decides To Irishman; Vacation On Tap

Hugh B. Maguire, the affable chief clerk at the U.S. National Bank, is going home for vacation.

This is unusual because his home is Ireland. Clones, County Monaghan, to be exact.

Adventurous circumstances brought this 34-year-old Mick from County Monaghan to County San Diego.

Maguire who was raised on a 450 acre farm, attended Clones boys' school and later McCarten's college until he was drafted for four years of service in the Irish Army during which time his father died. As is the custom, the estate went to the oldest son in the family. Hugh is the youngest.

He worked in England for a while then Scotland. A former school chum offered him a job in Durbin, South Africa. Prime Minister Jan Smuts died as he was ready to leave the African uprising caused his friend to advise him against the trip. So he came to America instead.

"I stayed in New York one week," he said. "That convinced me New York was too much of a rat-race." A map showed San Diego to be furthest from the "rat-race" so he boarded a bus for that city.

Maguire joined the U. S. National Bank in 1955 and has carefully conserved his resources of money and vacation allowances against the trip back home to Ireland.

When Maguire returns to his job in August he is going to settle down to another, and more important project. In November he is going to take the step any handsome, young, red-blooded bachelor would do. He's getting married.

JW Church Group Plans Meet Trip

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley-La Mesa congregation this week announced plans to attend an international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York city this summer.

Edgar A. Flinn, presiding minister of the local group, said the convention could well be the largest in the history of Jehovah's Witnesses. It is scheduled for July 27 through August 3 and will be held in Yankee stadium and the polo grounds simultaneously.

The last international convention, attended by many local Witnesses, was held in 1953 in Yankee stadium and reached a peak attendance of 165,000 including the overflow audiences. Watchtower officials, Flinn said, have arranged this year for the program to be held in both places, with most program features repeated at the polo grounds immediately following the first presentation in Yankee stadium.

The Watchtower Bible & Tract society, governing agency for Jehovah's Witnesses, has been making special travel arrangements for foreign delegates. Many missionaries who have served in other lands will also be brought to the United States for the Bible convention.

Purpose of the gathering is to provide stimulus for the New World society of Jehovah's Witnesses in Christian association, Bible instruction and ministerial training. This, Flinn said, is in accordance with provisions made for God's people in Biblical days.

Flinn stated that it is not yet known how many Witnesses from the area will attend, but, he added, special travel arrangements are being made by plane, train and car. He said further it may be necessary to make limited meeting arrangements or cancel local meetings altogether during convention time.

Army Newsman Ends Course

FORT SLOCUM, N.Y. (APTN) — Pvt. Ronald L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moore, 3721 Grove street, Lemon Grove, recently graduated from the Army information school at Fort Slocum, N.Y.

Moore received eight weeks of training in news writing, press photography and radio and television techniques.

He entered the Army last February and completed basic combat training at Fort Ord.

The 24-year-old soldier was vice-president of Moore distributing company, El Cajon, in civilian life. A member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, he was graduated from Grossmont high school in 1951 and San Diego state college in 1957.

LIMIT DRIVING
When planning a vacation trip in your automobile, limit your daily driving to a distance you can cover comfortably, says the Automobile Club of Southern California. A vacation ceases to be a vacation if you have to grind away miles on the road when you are tired and sleepy, and you multiply your chances of having an accident.

I was snapshotting at the beach the other day when this guy tapped me on the shoulder. "Taking pictures," he said. "What a waste of time!" In the first place you have to be an engineer to take a picture. And what've you got when you're through? You can't tell the faces without a microscope."

"Now just a minute," I said, trying to keep from swatting him with my Brownie Starflex. "I happen to know anyone can take good pictures with a $10.75 camera like this."

I handed him the camera and pointed toward the beach. "What do you see in the viewfinder?" I said.

"Um-m-m-m," he said appreciately. "Pretty isn't she? What do I do now?"

"Just press the button," I said. "And if you're downtown next week, drop by the store."

"All I did was press the button," he kept saying after I showed him the picture a few days later. Suddenly he gave me a determined look. "Give me one of those," he said, pointing to the Brownie Starflex. "And three or four rolls of film—fast. I'm going back to the beach," he said, running out the door, camera and film in hand.

Picture taking is easy—and fun. Try it.
